Jen,

First let me say that it is refreshing to see you posting the information that you are on the website. I have some documents and information that I believe would be quite helpful to you. I have an audio recording of Kip in LA where he is speaking of sacrifice even if that means sending your children to different colleges, what!!!! I also have a document that I can get scanned that is from a SMC that shows each member and how much they are to give along with a letter from the sector leader to the BTL informing them to make sure that everyone is on track to meet the goal. I found this in an old box of junk I was throwing out. Let me know what you think.

Thanks

Scott
