

Email sent to registered conference attendees for the Seattle International Leadership Conference.
9/2/05

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

We regret to inform you that we have felt it necessary to take Kip McKean and his class, "Revival: Son of Man, Can These Bones Live?" off of this year's International Leadership Conference teaching program. In choosing speakers and teachers for this pivotal time, we have striven to make choices that reflect, in particular, the values of Maturity, Respect, and Unity. In last week's Portland bulletin, Kip published an unfortunate article, "The Portland Story" that in our observation, while calling disciples to appropriate commitment to Jesus and His mission, also disparages and disrespects churches and leaderships around the kingdom in a way unbecoming the purposes of this conference.

Certainly Kip is still welcome as a conference participant and we solicit your prayers as we continue to make preparations for this historic time.

Sincerely,

The 2005 ILC Conference Committee:
